

Sam and Lucy Eat Breakfast

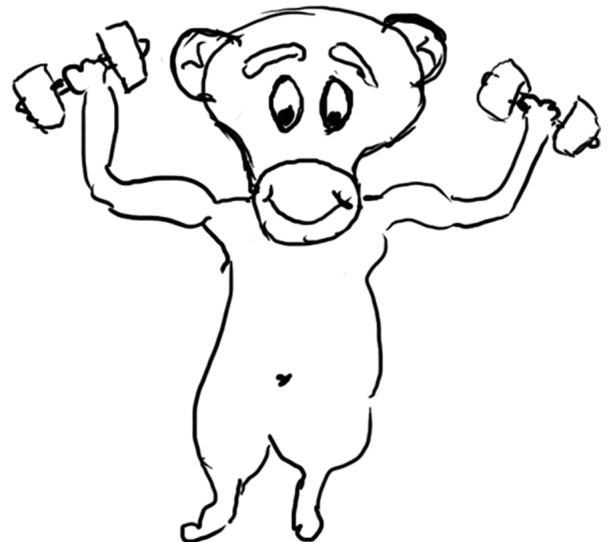

This is a story about Sam and Lucy, two great friends. They live together in an enormous dark jungle. It is strange that they are friends because Sam is a monkey and Lucy is a leopard! There are lots of other animals that live in the jungle but they are not friends with Sam and Lucy. Every morning Sam and Lucy go out to hunt the other animals so they can eat breakfast together.

All the other animals are very nervous when Sam and Lucy hunt together because they are afraid that Sam and Lucy will hunt them and eat them. All the animals hide high up in the trees or they run away very fast so Sam and Lucy can't find them.

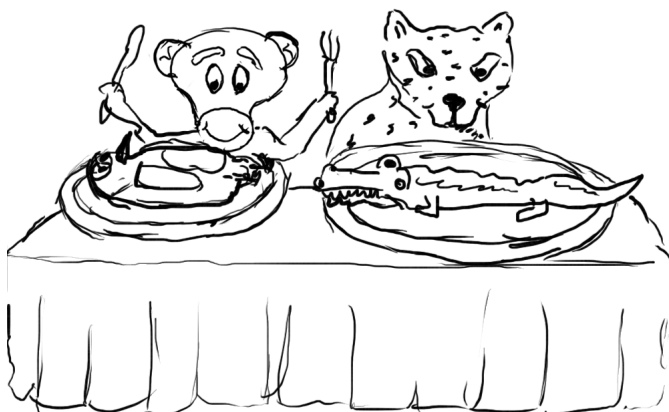

So, every morning, Sam and Lucy go hunting but they can't find any animals to eat. They are hungry and unhappy.

One morning Sam says to Lucy, "What can we do? All the animals are hiding and I am very hungry!" Lucy says, "Some of the animals climb up the trees to hide from us and some of the animals run away very fast. We have to learn to climb and to run fast. Let's go to the gym!"

So, that morning, Sam and Lucy didn't go hunting, they went to the gym. Sam starts learning to climb at the gym. He makes his arms very strong so he can climb the tall trees in the jungle. Lucy runs and runs and runs in the gym. She learns to run very very fast so she can chase the other animals in the jungle.

The next day, Sam and Lucy go out to hunt the other animals for breakfast. When the other animals see them they run away very fast or climb up the tall trees to hide.

But Sam starts climbing too. He climbs higher and higher and higher and he catches a penguin! Some of the animals run away but today Lucy starts chasing them. She runs faster and faster and faster and she catches a crocodile.

Sam and Lucy go back home together and they cook the penguin and the crocodile and eat a delicious breakfast!